

Dedication

I am so thankful for each amazing woman who's placed their trust in me over the past seven years and allowed me to capture the depths of their infinite beauty; my peers who've inspired me and reminded me that even though I work alone, I am NOT alone; the photographers who've lent a hand along the way; and for my friends who love me anyway even though I'm such a workaholic. But most of all I am thankful for my beautiful family who've put up with mommy being absent even when she was physically present because her work is so important to her . . . as was the creation of this book. I can never replace those missed moments, but I can promise to live in the moment and be fully present each and every moment we do get to share together.

A big thank you as well to the beautiful and talented makeup artists whose work is featured in this book: Kelly Stanger of www.GlammeupNY.com, without whom I could not do what I do; Latonya Green of www.LatonyaGreenMUA.com
