Today you made a project called a glyph. Now write out three clues using the leg-end to help your classmates figure out who you are.